World Events Leave Footprints on Society

Another year of world changing events can be tacked on to next year's history books. Boris Yeltsin and Mikhail Gorbachev fought numerous political battles to claim the presidency of the USSR. Unfortunately, the winner received a quickly dissolving state. Saddam Hussein continued to create turmoil in the mideast while General H. Norman Schwarzkopf's popularity skyrocketed past George Bush's falling "approval" ratings.

The Minnesota Twins beat the Atlanta Braves in the 1991 World Series.

On July 11, 1991, the moon slipped over the sun turning day into night.

Over 730 oil wells were damaged or set ablaze during the Iraqi occupation of Kuwait. A woman prays as the land behind her goes up in flames.

President Bush and former Presidents Carter, Ford, and Nixon joined former President Ronald Reagan in opening his presidential library.

About 2 million Iraqi Kurds and other minorities fled north in April 1991 to the Turkish border when the rebels failed to oust President Saddam Hussein.

Tanks parked in front of St. Basil's Cathedral and elsewhere on the Red Square during the Soviet military coup in Moscow.

Eight humans and thousands of species of plants and animals will spend two years in a sealed structure called Biosphere 2.

Anita Hill loses sexual harassment charge against Clarence Thomas.

Mikhail Gorbachev is released from house arrest only to be removed from office.

Russian President Boris Yeltsin celebrates end of coup attempt.

Work outside of school is an integral part of many students' lives. Fast food restaurants are not the only places that hire teenagers. Some high school students find jobs at department stores, grocery stores, filling stations, and car washes.

While shopping or running other errands in Clinton, one is very likely to run into students working at after-school jobs. Many students at Clinton High not only have the duty of getting their homework done, but they are also responsible for their jobs. Students who are capable of holding an after-school job and keeping up with their grades deserve much praise.

Parents Get Involved

Moms and Dads of the cast of "Wiley & the Hairy Man" participate in parents' night. This included a mock audition containing many different games and activities along with an assortment of several desserts.

Parental involvement at CCHS is a crucial part of sports, clubs, plays, and various other organizations and activities. There are groups that the parents take part in: the 12th Man Club and the Booster Club. In theater, there are many parents who find time in their busy schedules to lend their handiwork to the sets, costuming, make-up, hairdressing, and any other area where they are needed. In most cases, the parents' efforts go unnoticed, but they never complain about not getting recognition.

Adam Long's mother cheers for the Maroons as she watches her son assist the football team to another victory.

Pam Graves participates in the parents' night for "Wiley."

Mike and Carol Hager let their frustrations show when Stephanie's working with the cast and crew of "Wiley."

Parental support is shown by the many balloons and flowers in the office.

Trends Mark Students

The students of Clinton High School are known for trying to keep up with the times by wearing fashionable clothing. While walking down the hall, one can usually see outfits that have graced the pages of COSMO and GQ. Even the guys like to wear stylish clothes, sometimes even more so than the girls. Whatever the gender of the person, clothes and fads are an important part of a high school student's life.

Athletic logos were a popular item this year.

Ribbed fabric was used for everything from shirts to skirts and stretch pants.

Sweatshirts and stripes and anything with a zipper were also popular choice.

Jackets with team logos were eagerly bought, regardless of the somewhat steep prices.

Fads are a large part of our world. Guess was still in. Esprit apparel hit it big this year, and B.U.M. clothes quickly gained popularity. Girls found Esprit a satisfactory name, and Bugle Boy was popular with the guys. Any clothing that advertised athletic equipment quickly became sought after. Concert t-shirts were also a regular sight. Music stars like Michael Jackson and Dire Straits were still going strong. Elton John and George Michael teamed up this year to cut a #1 song, "Don't Let the Sun Go Down on Me." Heavy metal bands such as Metallica, Megadeth, and Anthrax were a student body favorite, as well as country singers Garth Brooks and Trisha Yearwood. Individuality became more popular with musicians and their appearances. For example, Sinéad O'Connor and Right Said Fred promoted BALDNESS! Queen made a surprising comeback from the late 70's with the single "Bohemian Rhapsody" from the motion picture soundtrack "Wayne's World." Other movies that really hit it big this year were the award winning "Silence of the Lambs," "Beauty and the Beast," and "Problem Child II." Disney made yet another comeback with the musical, "Newsies."

Esprit remained a sought after name.

Ties were still popular among the administration.

Students made a statement with environmental clothes.

Guess was as popular as ever.

Student Life at Clinton High

Outside of extra-curricular activities, CCHS's students get many chances to choose what they want to do during regular school hours. This year PE classes were given the opportunity to rollerskate. During the two half days of standardized testing in the second semester, students were given a break during their examination.

S tudent Life

The students at CCHS participate in the many things that the school has to offer. We dedicate these pages to these students. In these photos, we have captured small parts of this excitement while they cheer on teams, perform, or even stand around. These pages show that, even though these students have very busy lifestyles, they are willing to give up their free time to support our school. Student life, busy or not, reflects a feeling of togetherness.

Gina Alsop happily displays her school spirit while practicing for Flag Corps. Mark Polen struts his stuff. Brad Gordon, Brian Patterson, Chastity Turney, Jennifer Schottel, Melanie Wilson, Jamie Torbert, and Tricia Tuggle support the Maroons. Sarah Bloch loves school.

Wow! It was tough finding the way this first year! The freshmen may have gotten lost a few times—especially trying to figure out semester exams! And oh those schedule changes! Thank goodness for guidance counselors that helped with the “credit stuff.”

The sponsors for the freshmen are Marilee Jakobitz & Jan Hogan. CCHS freshmen won FIRST PLACE in the Homecoming Parade Float Contest! Thanks go to a lot of loving parents who helped. The sponsor became ill when she realized what she had done by becoming sponsor. But with the help of Mrs. Arnold (who sponsored another class also) and Cathy Weiss, things got done AND “SKIN THE REDSKINS!” (What a theme! a Nik Jones’ original!) won first prize!

The freshmen also won the Canned Food Drive! With funds from their “prizes” and the concession stand in February, they didn’t have anymore fundraisers.

The officers were president, David Lemmel; vice-president, Christine Herrin; secretary, Camie Wilson; and treasurer, Chastity Turner.

Well, '92-'92 was NOT a good year—TOO much too learn—classes TOO hard—BUT it wasn’t really a bad year either.

FRESHMEN WOW!

J.E.T.S.

The JETS team placed eighth in state out of 500 schools. The members of the team, sponsored by Joel White, were Jared Anderson, Jeffrey Brokish, Jared Callison, Emily Conners, Chris Hammer, Denise Korneman, Jenny Moore, Bev Nannini, Thai Son Pham, Richard Tennison, Joe Utter, Darcie Webb, and Jason Wrage. Individual winners included Jared Anderson (2nd in state for engineering graphics, 1st in regional for engineering graphics, 1st in district for engineering graphics, 2nd in district for math), Richard Tennison (1st in regional for physics, 2nd in district for physics), Jeffrey Brokish (1st in regional for computers, 3rd in district for computers), Bev Nannini (2nd in regional for English, 2nd in biology at district), Emily Conners (tied for 2nd in regional for biology), Jared Callison (tied for 3rd place in regional for physics), Jason Wrage (1st place in district for computers), Joe Utter (2nd in district for engineering graphics), Thai Son Pham (3rd in district for chemistry).

Bev Nannini also did very well for her last year as a member of JETS.

Seniors Jason Wrage and Jared Anderson both had extremely successful years on the JETS team.

Scholastic Bowl Excels

The Scholastic Bowl team ended a winning season with a second place finish at District competition. This was the first year IHSA divided state quiz team playoffs into small and large school divisions, giving the smaller schools a greater opportunity for advancement. In addition, the varsity quizzers brought home two tournament trophies: a third place in the Okaw League Conference Tournament and a fourth place at the Eastern Illinois University Tournament. The team finished first in its division at the Sullivan Invitational Tournament, but was eliminated in the finals.

Leading the team in individual scoring was senior Jared Anderson with 95 toss-ups. Anderson was named to the all-tournament teams as one of the five high-scoring individuals at the EIU, Okaw, and Richland tournaments. Junior Savilla Joss followed Anderson closely with 82 toss-ups.

Junior Josh Rich, with 37 toss-ups, and senior Bev Nannini, with 29, also made a strong showing. Senior Jason Wrage, the team's captain, pulled down 19 toss-ups. Junior Jared Callison scored 16, sophomore Joe Daniels made 14, and junior Mark Michel scored 10. Freshman Jeff Brokish made 3 toss-ups for the varsity team and sophomore Mike Bernard made 2, as did senior Debbie Willis. The team was coached by Mr. Galen Strain.

The varsity's overall record for the 1991-1992 season was 21 wins, 20 losses. The quizzers broke even in Okaw Tournament play with 8 wins, 8 losses.

The Junior Varsity Scholastic Bowl team finished the season with a 12-4 record and a fourth place trophy in Okaw Tournament play. Team captain Joe Daniels made the all-tournament team as one of the five individuals with the most toss-ups. The team finished second in regular conference play.

The JV team was paced by Daniels, a sophomore, who pulled down 49 JV toss-ups, as well as making a strong showing in varsity tournament play. Freshman Jeff Brokish scored 32 toss-ups, sophomore Mike Bernard 28 toss-ups, and freshman Joe Adams 26. Tasha Walston contributed 4 to the total. Scoring was well balanced, with Daniels strong in math and spelling, Brokish in social studies, Adams and Bernard in science, and Walston in English. The JVs were coached by Mrs. Becky Adams.

INTERACT CLUB

"A friend is someone who understands your past, believes in your future, and accepts you today just the way you are." This quote aptly describes the philosophy of the Interact Club. Members act, as well, as ambassadors representing the student body at a variety of functions throughout the year. Activities included being tour guides at both the fall and spring parent conferences, student panelists at SOS—Start Off Successful, the freshman orientation program, and adopting a grandparent at a local nursing home. At Christmas time, Interact Club baked cookies and visited the nursing home, where they played games and chatted with the residents. Club members also entertained senior citizens at the Friendship Center by singing everyone's favorite Christmas carols. This field trip was fun-filled. Traditionally, Interact Club members pass out programs at graduation and Baccalaureate. Interact Club also plans to end the year with a trip to Six Flags and a cookout at Weldon Springs. New members are ALWAYS welcome.

NHS INDUCTS 17

Eleven returning NHS students faced the fall with the task of raising money to ensure an elegant luncheon and a memorable ceremony for the new inductees. The usual lollipop sales were ruled out because of their messiness. A request to sell Bike's candies was approved, and sales went smoothly UNTIL a new rule regarding candy sales in the halls and classrooms was instituted. At that point the remaining bars were quickly sold at cost, and the boxed candy was donated to charity. On March 17, sixteen juniors and one senior were inducted into the Charles Evans Chapter of the National Honor Society. Members of their families and their friends were invited to witness these honors. After the ceremony, guests and members enjoyed delicious cookies and punch prepared by Mrs. Hogan's food classes. Much of May was spent in organizing and obtaining permission for the community work project. As always, Mrs. Wunderlich, Mrs. Fry and Mr. Bauersachs, were pleased with NHS's efforts and service to the community.

This year, the Student Council sponsored the Homecoming and Sweetheart dances. The council also established two academic awards for the 1991-92 school years. These awards included the Dynamic Duo award, given to teachers, and the Gettin' Better award for improved students. For the end of the year party, the Student Council went to Six Flags.

TAKING A STEP AHEAD WITH PEP CLUB

This year an entirely different club left their mark on the students of Clinton High School. The Clinton Community High School Pep Club had one terrific beginning. Throughout the year the pep club established its real meaning, which was to show total school spirit, and to be known as leaders of school spirit in all sports activities. The club ended up with a medium size group, that had done a large amount of activities. Some of the activities included, the 50/50 raffle, the signing of a banner that displayed the names of every student in this school, the making of the signs for the cheering from all of the fans, and getting the parents to support us with all of the activities.

S.A.D.D. '92

S.A.D.D., Students Against Driving Drunk, had a very productive year in 1991-92. They held a pizza party to promote one home football game and one home basketball game. They also sponsored a dance in conjunction with C.A.P.T.A.I.N.S. after a basketball game, where they provided pizza and soda. In March, the club recognized S.A.D.D.'s birthday with cookies for the whole school. In April S.A.D.D. held Death Day for the second year in a row. It was held on April 30th in order to make the students aware of the dangers of drinking and driving both on prom night and any other night of the year. One teenager dies every 23 minutes from a drunk driving accident, and that is what Death Day is all about. S.A.D.D. also provided money to sponsor prom events such as putting reminders in the flower boxes. To raise the money for all of its events, S.A.D.D. held a fundraiser in the fall. From this fund raiser, S.A.D.D. raised about $1,000. Steve Zartler is the sponsor for S.A.D.D. and enjoys it very much.

The FHA decided to start the year off early by being a part of the Homecoming parade and by decorating a float. While they held their Wednesday night meetings, many of them had fun learning to cook, doing crafts, and learning to do counted crossstitch. During the Christmas season, they participated in the Angel Tree Program by buying little gifts for kids in need. They also did the ever-popular secret sisters. They bought gifts for other people, gave them to them, and didn't identify themselves for at least 4 weeks. Once again, the FHA had their annual canned food drive, which was co-sponsored by the exchange club. Mr. Zartler's 1st hour class won with the most donations, and the freshmen won the overall. Besides the normal FHA year, there were also the Home Economics classes. Within those classes, they held a child care preschool during 7th hour. They also constructed a playground using household materials and glue. The creative cookery class went to Dave's and worked decorating cakes. Along side the FHA program is the FFA program. The FFA also had their annual float in the Homecoming parade, and their children's zoo here at the high school. The zoo entertained kids from kindergarten all the way to fifth grade. There were even some parents that came and joined the fun. The FFA banquet honored the best of those who joined in on the fun. Prizes were presented to those that had won honors at different competitions throughout the state. Also honored were the seniors that were actively involved in the group and those underclassmen actively involved. The FFA also helped out at the local Easter celebration. They had a petting zoo for anyone that wanted to pet an animal. They even had a special turkey there. Animals included ranged from a rabbit to a calf. All of the little kids enjoyed the animals and the fun. Obviously, both the FHA and the FFA had a great year.

SUPER SECRETARIES

Super Secretaries is a club, sponsored by Mrs. Allison, for students interested in business. Social, educational, and philanthropic events are planned throughout the year. This year they enjoyed a fall cookout and games at Weldon Springs State Park. Many participated in Secret Santa and celebrated Christmas with a Christmas party at Mrs. Allison's, where they exchanged gifts, sang carols, and ate goodies. While enjoying a pizza party, several girls made Valentines for residents of The DeWitt County Nursing Home in February. In May, numerous members of Super Secretaries enjoyed a field trip to the State Farm Corporation in Bloomington, Illinois. After their tour, the students devoured their lunch at Avanti's Italian Restaurant. The food from Avanti's just was not enough, and they convinced the bus driver to make a stop at Dairy Queen on the way home.

AUTO MECHANICS

Auto Mechanics Officers: Greg Hale, president; Will Daniels, vice president; Brian Cooper, treasurer; and Rick Heath, secretary.

"Is this the engine?" asks Andrew Goodman.

Will Daniels gets a look under Mr. Zartler's car.

Auto Mechanics is a club, sponsored by Mr. Adams, for any student who has been enrolled in a mechanics class. The members of Auto Mechanics enjoyed a variety of activities this year. In the fall Scott Baum, of Baum Chevrolet Buick in Clinton, came to a meeting and spoke to members about automobile restoration. Baum's donated a 1985 Chevrolet Celebrity for instructional purposes in classes at the high school this year. Marve Murphy, of Murphy's Performance Shop, spoke to the club about the automotive program which will be available soon at Richland. Several members participated in the annual Christmas party held at Monical's in December. Each year the club spends long hours working at the concession stands at games to raise money for their scholarship. The $300 scholarship is given to a mechanics student who shows ability and interest in furthering his education in the field. The vice-president of the 1992 Auto Mechanics club, Will Daniels, placed sixth overall in a Small Engine Contest held in Peoria. The Auto Mechanics club had a successful, fun-filled year.

THESPIANS

The Thespians present two productions each year, the fall play and the spring musical. The fall play was WILEY AND THE HAIRYMAN with Cary Luttrell cast as Wiley and Jonathon Hale cast as the Hairyman. Rebekah Imig and Rebecca Bloch took turns playing Wiley's Mammy. The rest of the cast consisted of thirteen swamp members. WILEY AND THE HAIRYMAN was a real success for the Thespians. The spring musical, GREASE, was another big success for the Thespians. Josh Rich and Kristi Helton were cast as the leads, Danny Zuko and Sandy Dumbrowski. Stuart Coon and Eric Weaver, both friends to the Thespians, volunteered their time to be cast in the spring musical. The total cast and crew numbered between 60-70. The Thespians also did a great job of the annual production of Drama and Doughnuts held in May.

The Thespians attend the All-State Theatre Festival yearly to attend workshops and watch plays. Jared Callison was cast in this year's All-State production of TO KILL A MOCKINGBIRD. This production consisted of 80-100 of the best actors and actresses from around the state.

TECH ENGINEERS

CCHS has a small group of students that are well trained in all aspects of the auditorium. They work with most all of the plays, are available when called upon to run the sound booth or light booths, and help out when needed. These people are the Tech Engineers. This group was started last year, 1990, and has become a very vital part of the theater. Roger Massey, a former student at CCHS, is the sponsor of the group. Mrs. Jones also helps out and calls upon the Tech Engineers whenever they are needed. Without the Tech Engineers, the school plays would not be as successful as they are. The actors and directors thank the Tech Engineers for all the time, effort, and pride they put into their job.

Ben Helton, sophomore, is new to the Tech Engineers program this year. Jared Anderson, senior, is a veteran to the Tech Engineers, and has done much for the program. Ryan Archey, senior and veteran, does just as much for the Tech Engineers as Jared. The two seem inseparable during the play season. Cathy Trago recruited Tracey Kress for the 1992 Tech Engineers. Jason Wrage, senior and leader of the Tech Engineers, helped to make the 1992 season a successful one.

A STEP UP TO ART

The Clinton Art Club was involved in a huge number of activities. The members helped update the girls' basketball signs for the gym. They also helped the First Christian Church celebrate their 50th anniversary by creating a sculpture. The local McDonald's had the art club do window displays. The club made special designs for the windows at Homecoming, Christmas, Valentines Day, Easter, and Mother's Day. The club raised money for matting and framing. The money also purchased prizes that were donated to the area nursing homes. This year Jeff Wrage was given the Hallmark Award for the best art entry in the show. He was also chosen, out of 70, to have his art represented in New York. CONGRATULATIONS JEFF!!

Singing On . . .

This year there were two choruses for twice the fun. Another new addition was the male barbershop quartet, which sang for several functions, including the Bloomington Elks, the National Honor Society Initiation, and the CCHS Honors Banquet. Several chorus members attended the ISU Choral Festival in the fall. Josh Rich was selected for top honors at the Illinois Music Educators Conference in January as a member of the Honors Chorus. Both groups gave concerts for "The Young At Heart" group at the First Christian Church, entertained the folks at the First Christian Church, and held two exchange Christmas Concerts with Douglas and Lincoln schools. The Winter Holiday Concert was held in conjunction with the band this year. Members sold Easter candy to raise the funds for awards, concert T-shirts, and a trip to a dinner theater. The spring concert featured both groups separately and in combination. Several four-year chorus members were honored at the spring concert.

A STEP IN TIME WITH CCHS BANDS

Chad Samson and Jared Callison direct the band while Tiffany Brown and Heather Anderson carry the new banner.

When late August rolled around, Mr. Streight found the band was easy to work with. Students were self-motivated and had real pride in what they were doing. A spirit of teamwork prevailed. Drum majors, Jared Callison and Chad Samson, displayed excellent leadership and marching skills. Many band members, especially squad leaders, displayed a keen interest in marching correctly, which carried over to all band members. The Marching Maroons performed much better than they had in the five years Mr. Streight had been at CCHS.

The band was video taped on several occasions during the marching season. This tape was sent to Disney World as a part of the audition requirements. The band was accepted to perform at Epcot Center during the late March of 1993. Even though past Clinton Bands had performed at Disney World as a Concert Band, CCHS had never been accepted to march at Disney World before.

Rebekah Imig, Todd Norrington, and Stephanie Purkes were members of the prestigious ALL STATE BAND. Their selection into this band was based on two auditions, one at the district level and one at the state level. This is the first year Clinton has had more than one All-Stater. Special congratulations to Rebekah, Todd, and Stephanie. This is one of the highest honors a high school musician can achieve.

Plans are being made for the band to travel to the University of Illinois for clinic sessions with U of I staff. The band will also take a short weekend trip to Chicago or St. Louis after performing at IHSA State Band Contest.

Foreign Language Club

The Foreign Language Club held its annual Christmas Party at the high school this year. There was an all-time record turnout for the event, so it could not be held at Mrs. Laffey's house as it has traditionally been. They also saw "Cats" at the University of Illinois Assembly Hall. One of the school-wide activities that the Foreign Language Club organized included a breakfast with croissants, coffee, and hot cocoa; they also tried to hold a poster contest for the spring musical, "Grease," but there was only one entrant, Tasha Walston. The Foreign Language Club also tried to go out to dinner, but they were unable to find an open date. They also could not find a French restaurant. The turnout for the meetings was good at the beginning of the year; but towards the end of the year, attendance was declining. The sponsor of the club is Sandra Laffey, who gladly sponsors the Foreign Language Club and enjoys working with eager students. The club includes people who have been in a foreign language course previously and also people who are participating in a foreign language class at the present time. The club tries to bring the spirit of a foreign language to the students of Clinton High School as well as the teachers and community. The officers this year consisted mostly of seniors, with one sophomore.

Foreign Exchange Students Take a Step Overseas

Top: Stephanie poses for a senior picture, a tradition in the U.S. that she decided to follow while staying here. Above: Malu enjoys staying in a hotel while meeting other foreign exchange students. Right: Steph happily participates in CCHS's pep band. Stephanie played clarinet while living in Clinton. Far right: Malu exhibits her outstanding singing ability through chorus, a class that she enjoyed very much.

Malu Garcia, one of the two foreign exchange students this year, arrived in Clinton from the Philippines on September 15, 1991. Malu likes everything about the United States. When asked if she liked living in Clinton, she replied, "Oh, yes, very much. I don't understand why people ask me how I got to be assigned here. I think the people who make up Clinton are fun and people who look at life in a positive way." Malu finds living away from her parents considerably easy due to the fact she previously attended a private Catholic high school for girls in Manila. She thinks of her parents often, but she has gotten used to being apart. After returning to the Philippines, Malu plans to finish college, and intends to return to the United States to visit her friends during spring break. "I know that it will hurt leaving my new family and friends, but I just have to be positive like what you guys are doing," expressed Malu. When asked what ideas or mementos she plans to take back to her country, she replied, "My yearbook and pictures of myself doing fun stuff with my friends. I'll always remember this year, 1991-92, because of all the new friends I've made and most of all, I've realized that, regardless of color, race, and religion, people young and old everywhere are the same."

Stephanie Bezler, the other foreign exchange student, arrived from Munich, Germany, on August 7, 1991, smiling and eager to learn the culture of the United States. When Stephanie was asked what she liked best about the U.S., she responded, "I like the big cities like Chicago and Milwaukee. I like the people and everything new because I don't know if I will ever return to the U.S." Steph enjoys living in Clinton, but says it is a very small town, and she wishes there would be more places to meet people other than the Square. Her favorite foods are pizza and cheese sticks. She enjoys being outdoors and participating in sports such as volleyball. "I like being here in America," said Stephanie.

ONE STEP CLOSER TO

The Yearbook Staff started out the year with a larger than normal staff. As always, students were eager to leave the building to sell ads. After the completion of this aspect of yearbook production, the students went to the more complicated parts of the process—drawing layouts, writing copy, organizing and cropping photography, and preparing final pages for the publisher.

Things went very slowly as yearbook work is very precise. Errors are very costly—roughly $2.80 each—so meticulous work is necessary.

At the end of the first semester, six students selected another class or study hall in place of Yearbook Class. Work and workers became more organized, and pages started to be completed.

At this writing (February 28, 1992) my hair has taken on even deeper shades of gray, and Mr. Zimmerman is a bit balder. If you see this copy in printed form, you will know we are no longer "One Step Away."

PUTTING THEIR BEST

Each year Clinton Community High School holds the Honors Assembly to honor those students who have received awards or scholarships throughout the year. Jennifer Kuntz was the Hugh O'Brien Youth Foundation Ambassador. The Xerox Award went to Amy Wheeler. Jennifer Schottel and Darcie Webb were chosen to represent CCHS at Girls State at Eastern Illinois University. WCIA-TV Best of the Class went to Jared Anderson. The Decatur Herald and Review Scholar of the Year was Denise Korneman. Savilla Joss and Joe Alexander were honored for their leadership abilities by receiving the "I Dare You Award." The Principals Leadership Award was presented to Jason Wrage. Kristi Helton was recognized as a finalist in the Jostens Foundation Leader Scholarship Program. Ambassador Awards were presented to the two exchange students, Malu Garcia and Stephanie Bezler. The Presidential Academic Fitness Award was presented to Jared Anderson, Dionna Earl, Denise Korneman, Bev Nannini, Bobbie Isaac, Jason Wrage, Phil Mandrell, Stacy Newberry, Julie Heap, Reneé Workman, and Debra Willis. A special award for extraordinary effort was given to Thai Son Pham. Julie Heap, the 1991 winner of the Broken Mirror Award, continued the tradition by passing on this coveted award to junior Melissa Peters. The U.S. Army Reserve National Scholar/Athlete Award was presented to Stacy Newberry and Tad Baird. Baird and Newberry also received the Okaw Conference Scholar Athlete Award. DAR-SAR Awards for outstanding citizenship, scholarship, leadership, and patriotism, were presented to Ryan Archey and Denise Korneman. The Bausch and Lomb award for most outstanding math/science student went to Amy Wheeler.

Outstanding students from each department were as follows: agriculture—Bill Music and Ashley Sayers, art—Rachel Lobb, business—Tricia Lowrey, dramatics—Cary Luttrell, English—Jared Anderson and Denise Korneman, foreign language—Bev Nannini, home economics—Gina Alsup, industrial arts—Will Daniels, instrumental music—Brant Obermeyer, mathematics—Jared Anderson and Denise Korneman, physical education—Bev Nannini and Tim McGhee, science—Denise Korneman, social studies—Jared Anderson, vocal music—Jennifer Brown and Tina Russell, and vocational student of the year—Sherry Arnold.

The "M" Squad won the first place trophy for their novelty routine at state competition.

Class of 1994

The sophomore class had a successful year for several reasons. The class of 1994 began the year by building a prize-winning float for the Homecoming Parade. The theme was "Send 'em Back to the Reservation." Due to the many hours of stuffing pomps and eating pizza, pop, and cake, the class won first place. Spirit Week was also successful as the sophomores won first for the number of participants during the week.

Sophomore members of the JETS Team were Emily Conners and Jenny Moore. Emily won an individual honor at the regional level at E.I.U. Jenny was also a good member of the team according to Mr. White, the advisor for the team. Ben Nichols got the MVP award for his basketball playing abilities.

Many of the sophomores received superior and excellent ratings for their vocal and instrumental solos at the IHSA Solo and Ensemble Contest on March 7.

Josh Decker, Tom Maier, and Josh Carter talk after class about all the girls they really like.

SPORTS

Happy after a winning season, Mr. Goodwin?

When the going gets tough, the tough get dirty.

The Maroons score the go-ahead touchdown at Argenta.

Jeff Mannix looks for a few more yards.

All Area Player, Tad Baird, makes another tackle.

Jason Fairfield and Doug Bostwick team up for the extra point.

The Maroons prepare for battle.

The 1991 Maroon football season closed at 5-4. This club established a sense of unity and community excitement that had not been seen for a long time. The team missed by inches becoming the first Clinton football team to make the state playoffs. Offensively, the Maroons totaled the most rushing yards and total yards since the 1984 season. Jeff Mannix's total of 812 yards and 7 rushing touchdowns were the best since those of Bob Case in 1984. The 73 yard touchdown run that Mannix recorded against Sullivan is the longest in Clinton history. Defensively, the Maroons allowed fewer total yards since 1986, and the fewest points given up since 1984. The special teams had one of the best years on record, including 6 blocked kicks. The Maroons won their first two games by a score of 35-6 over Beardstown, and 24-6 over Unity. They lost their next four games to tough competition, including the hardest loss of the season to the number one ranked team in the state—the Monticello Sages. The game went into overtime and the Sages scored a touchdown, but their extra point was blocked. On the Maroon possession, they moved the ball to the half yard line. On the next two plays, the Maroons and their fans were confident that they had crossed the goal, but the officials saw it differently. This was one game that the Maroons proved they could play with the best. A special thanks goes to the following seniors: Jared Anderson, Jason Drake, Tad Baird, Ryan Archey, Doug Bostwick, Mike Doggett, Bryce McCleary, Brian Peavler, Rich Rybolt, and Jon Taylor.

Golf

Max Wollet eyes the fairway.

Ray Stroup placed 34th at state this year!

The linksters of 1991 finished the year with a record of 14 wins and 5 losses. This gave Coach Burger his fifth winning season in the last six years, highlighted by a second place finish in the first Okaw Conference Tournament. This year's squad was led by junior, MVP Ray Stroup, who averaged 41.5 strokes per match. Ray finished 12th in Regionals and 1st in Sectionals, becoming only the second Clinton golfer to be a medalist in a Sectional Tournament. Ray finished 34th in the two day State Final held at the Danville Elks Course. This appearance at a State Final was the fifth time that Clinton was represented in the finals. The JV squad, coached by Dave Hinton, posted an impressive 13-6 record.

Nice shots, Brad.

Cross Country

Joe Alexander and Heather Wise both made it to state this year.

Justin Nauman runs for the finish.

The 1991 Boys' Cross Country team had only one returning letterman, Joe Alexander. He was the Okaw Conference Champion, placed eighth in sectionals, thirteenth in state, and finished in all state. The two injuries of the runners in the top five hurt the team. The team was young and inexperienced, but they placed second in the Okaw Conference and sixth at Regionals, missing qualifying for sectionals by one point. This year, the Most Improved award went to William Lacroix. The Girls' Cross Country team began the season with seven girls and ended with four. Those ending the season were two juniors and two freshmen. Unfortunately, the girls needed five runners to score as a team, but they worked and competed hard. Heather Wise, a freshman, qualified for state and finished seventy-fourth. Heather also went home with the Most Improved award.

The Lady Maroons volleyball team finished the season with a record of 21-9, their second straight 20 plus winning season and the first time ever to have a back-to-back 20 plus winning season. They finished 8-2 in the Okaw Valley Conference and gained second place. They defeated Maroa in the championship of regionals by the scores of 1-5, 15-4, and 15-2. After defeating Hoopeston-East Lynn, ranked 16th in state, the team recorded the first ever sectional win in girls' athletics. They finished second in the Delavan Tournament, tied for first in the Rantoul Tournament, and reached semifinals in the Clinton Classic. The award winners this year were Melissa Peters, Best Serving Percentage (99.6%, a school record); Tricia Lowrey, Best Passing Percentage; Stacy Newberry, Most Kill Assists (439, a school record); Natalie Sams, Most Attack Kills; Sara Davenport, Most Stuff Blocks (59, a school record); and Tracy Roberts, Most Improved. The season had several peaks and valleys, but it is to the credit of the team that we never saw them quit on the court.

CHEERLEADING

Jennifer and Josh get ready for the game.

Clinton cheerleading is okay.

Which one of the Torbert twins?

Don't look so excited, Denise!

Getting ready for Homecoming.

The 91-92 cheerleaders had a busy year keeping spirit going. At camp, both squads placed second in the chant competition. The new year began with the Maroon and Gold game and a new fall sponsor, Christy Pruser. For Homecoming, they made signs to put on all the athletes' mailboxes, and provided breakfast for the football team the morning of the game. For the basketball season, Winter Sponsor, Mrs. Werts, brought many new ideas with her. The pep club was re-established and the Spirit Team, a group of five guys, was started. The Spirit Team helped with stunts and floor cheers and were appreciated by the cheerleaders. In February, the girls held their annual Kiddie Clinic. The season ended with a trip to Jumer's and Stage 2 in Peoria.

J.V. Cheerleaders are just a little nuts.

POM PONS

The high school and jr. high get their act together.

Is this how the pom pon girls stay in shape?

The "M" Squad is just happy to be here.

Pom pons perform at the half.

Getting involved with the school spirit was no problem for the Clinton "M" Squad. The captain, Kristi Helton; co-captain, Sherry Arnold; secretary, Jennifer Maxwell; and activity director, Summer Kelley; helped the coaches, Clarene Arnold and Loretta Rogers, to make the 1991-92 season a successful and daring one. Their goal was to assist in giving the school spirit a boost. At the Homecoming Parade, they rode specially built bicycles for two made by Lloyd Weiss; during home football games, they had a balloon launch during kickoff; and for the sports, they supplied each of the varsity players and coaches with a special treat during their lunch shifts. The back-to-school dance was their first school-sponsored event for the student body. The squad greeted the Winter Sports Preview in great style with a special routine done in the athletes' honor. From dancing out of a jukebox to dressing up as Ninja Turtles, the "M" Squad entertained the crowd well. At the end of each season, awards are given to the Most Valuable, Most Improved, 100% Performance, and Best Choreographer (teacher). They received first place and a trophy at the U-High Regional Competition in the Novelty and scored higher than last year in the Pom category. At Jacksonville Regional Competition, they qualified for state in the Novelty category and went on to become State Champions. The "M" Squad would like to thank all those who supported them this year.

WRESTLING

Brian Peavler gets ready to roll his opponent.

Doug Hammer takes control.

The 1991-92 junior varsity wrestling squad finished the dual meet season with a record of seventeen wins and two losses. The young Maroons competed in several tournaments, winning two of them, Olympia Frosh-Soph, and Catlin Frosh-Soph. Coach Queer thought the J.V. wrestlers did an outstanding job all year.

Kris Karr goes for the pin.

Roger takes care of his opponent.

Pat Costa qualified for State.

Russell Foehr made the Hall.

James Barry goes for the escape.

Doug prepares for a reversal.

Brian takes control.

The Varsity wrestling team spent another year in the top ten ranking. At one point they were ranked as high as fourth in the state. The Maroon grapplers finished their fourth consecutive 20 win season with a final dual meet record of 20 wins and 3 losses. While Clinton was rolling through their dual meets, they were also winning tournaments. Their victories included the Tremont Tournament, Gibson City Tournament, and the Okaw Conference title. The grapplers also saw many outstanding individual performances. Eight wrestlers qualified for the state sectional meet. These eight wrestlers were Dan Hendrix, Josh Decker, Jim Blue, Kris Karr, Pat Costa, Matt Baker, and Russell Foehr. Four of these wrestlers went on to compete at the STATE FINALS. Josh Decker, Kris Karr, Pat Costa, and Russell Foehr were also honored by being named Chuck Maddox Award Winners (Central Illinois All-Star Team). Coach Nagel was very pleased with his young Maroons and honored to work with the senior James Barry, Kris Karr, Pat Costa, Brian Peavler, Will Conaty, Marshall Canfield, and Mike Hendrix.

Boys' B-Ball

Scotty Koritz goes for a rebound.

The 1991-92 boy's basketball team had a 5-22 record. The team had many injuries, more injuries than Coach Ray Bergles thought possible. Terry Dodds, Shilo Rogers, Ben Nichols, Josh Rich and Brad Gordon missed games due to injuries. These impairments occurred mostly at the beginning of the year. The teams that CCHS defeated this year included Flanagan, Deland-Weldon, and Riverton. The lowlight of the season, according to Coach Bergles, was the night of December 17. That night, the Maroons held an eight-point lead against Mount Pulaski entering the fourth quarter, before losing by 18. The score was 63-45. At regionals, the team played very well. "I was very pleased because we played the way I thought we were capable of playing on offense and defense" stated Bergles. Ben Nichols led the team in field goals made, field goals attempted, shooting percentage, points, and average. The five departing seniors this year are Scott Koritz, Ryan Archey, Tad Baird, Terry Dodds, and Brad Gordon.

Natalie puts it up.

The 1991-92 Lady Maroons' Basketball team finished with an overall record of 11 wins and 17 losses. The Lady Maroons' final loss came at the hands of Heyworth in the Regional Championship game. Stacy Newberry led the team in nearly all statistical categories including scoring, rebounding, field goal percent, free throw percent, steals, and assists. The 1991-92 season was the last for seniors Tricia Lowrey, Stacy Newberry, and Natalie Sams. The loss of these three leaves not only three starting positions open, but leaves the Lady Maroons with a loss of leadership as well. Next year's team looks to be a young one, and Coach Olson looks forward to the challenge of a new year.

Softball

Lisa throws to first.

Tricia eyes the pitch.

The Clinton Softball Team had a rough season this year. However, even though the overall record added up to 7-14, the girls have nothing to be ashamed of and should definitely not hang their heads. The Varsity Softball team consisted of Stephanie Beadles, Tricia Lowrey, Carin Hoye, Tari Winchell, Nikki West, Lisa Goodwin, Summer Kelley, Tracey Kress, Heather Wooldridge, Candace Blessing, Amie Torbert, Angie Zieman, Sara Leimbach, Jamie Torbert, Kristy Evans, Shallon Gyuran, Sara Martin, Wendy Rossio, and Sara Nunnery. The Lady Maroons ended with a 4-2 record in the Okaw Conference, losing two tough games to Warrensburg. The season ended with a very sad loss to Blue Ridge in the Regionals. Clinton lost 10-11 in the seventh inning; however, they went away from the game knowing that they gave it their best shot.

Baseball

The Maroons protect the hot corner.

Jeff takes one downtown.

The 1992 Clinton Maroons' baseball team had an up and down season. After getting off to a great start, the Maroons dropped under .500 with an 8-9 record. They then started playing well again and were 14-11 with regionals starting.

The Maroons, who in the beginning set goals for a conference title, finished 7-3 and were Okaw Conference champions. "When we were 2-3 everybody kinda thought we wouldn't do it. Then we started playing well again, and we ended up winning it. It was real nice to finally win the conference," said Maroons outfielder and pitcher, Doug Bostwick. Doug, who batted over .320 for the season, was one of the leaders of the team along with Jeff Mannix. "Jeff made some terrific plays in the outfield and got some key hits for us. He really helped us out this year."

Brooke Bostwick gets ready for another win.

The boys' track team did not win as many meets as it has in the past, but the boys still did well. The team was fairly new this year, having very few seniors and quite a few freshmen. Although the team was not as experienced as it has been, the underclassmen showed that they could hold their own when they took first at the Frosh/Soph Monticello Invitational.

Tad Baird, Marshall Canfield, Rich Rybolt, Ryan Connelly, and Sean Kelly competed in the 400 and 800 meter relays at the state track meet; Tad Baird, Joe Alexander, Will Daniels, Scott Koritz, and Marshall Canfield competed in the 1600 meter relay. Joe Alexander also competed in the 1600 meter run.

On the girls' side, Natalie Sams, Heather Wise, and Sara Davenport all helped score the majority of the points in the bigger meets. The team, which was also fairly new, still showed that they were not a force to be tampered with. The team had ten freshmen, more underclassmen than they have had in many years. All in all the girls' team did well for the year. Natalie Sams was the only girl to go on to the state meet, where she competed in the long jump.

FINAL STEP . . .

This has been a very eventful year for the class of 1993. Aside from Homecoming activities, sports, extracurricular activities, and academics, it was the juniors' turn to fund the prom.

The juniors were extremely pleased to do this. All together, they raised over $800 toward the prom budget.

There were many juniors that were given special honors. Among them were Erica Peck for her quest to always improve and Savilla Joss for winning the Dynamic Duo Award.

The class of 1993 is finally ready for the "Final Step" of High School . . . being seniors!

Certainly that youthful face couldn't be that of a man who just retired. Yet, that is the case. Max Stites, the Business Manager of Clinton Community School District Unit #15 for the past 26 years, balanced his accounts and turned in his pens. Max has not only kept the school in the "black" and endeared himself to his fellow workers, he has also supported the YMCA, the IASBO, the Kiwanis Club, and the Methodist Church.

Max looks forward to some well-deserved golf and travel during his retirement. His wife, Dorisann, his sons Reggie and Max, and his four grandchildren will certainly appreciate having him around. Vi Green, who nominated Max for the ABWA's "Boss of the Year" in 1978, described him as "not perfect; he's one of the human race." He was a winner in 1978, and he's a winner now.

This year's Homecoming was a total success for all who were involved. Although there was no bonfire due to weather conditions, most activities involved a majority of the student body. The annual class contest during spirit week was a total blast! Monday there was no school in session, Tuesday was Sports Day, Wednesday was Woodstock Day, Thursday was Hat and Shades Day, and Friday was Maroon and Gold Day. Each class got three points for every member of the class that was dressed for spirit week that day. Points were also given for floats in the parade.

Many floats entered the parade. Among them were the Thespians, Cross-Country, F.H.A., and football. The parade came down Center Street from the Junior High and then went around the square. The parade left the square at Main Street. The sophomores and freshmen tied for first in the parade, so their classes each got thirty points. The juniors placed second and received twenty points. The seniors came in last and got only ten points.

For showing spirit for the entire week, the sophomores took the $200 first place prize money with 210 points. The seniors took $100 into their account with 199 points and second place. The juniors received $75 for their 182 points and third. The freshmen came in last with $50 and 117 points.

WILEY AND THE HAIRYMAN

Wiley and the Hairyman is about a little boy named Wiley, who lives in the swamp with his Mammy and his dog. Wiley is confronted daily by a representation of his inner fears. Those inner fears are the Hairyman. This is the story of how Wiley faces, fights, and conquers his fear and the Hairyman.

For this show, the Thespians used a relatively small cast of only eighteen students. Thirteen of those students were swamp members or a "mobile" part of the set, as they became tables, chairs, quick sand, and other parts of the swamp. They were Marshall Canfield, Amy Mathias, Darcie Webb, Tim Hilbrick, Jacque Bray, Tasha Walston, Amber Graves, Malu Garcia, Jared Callison, Wendy McKinzey, Kristen Tilley, Kristi Helton, and Julie Heap. Of those, Kristi and Julie were the swamp leaders, or the dance captains of the swamp. Cary Luttrell was cast as Wiley, Shilo Rogers played Wiley's dog, and Jonathon Hale was cast as the Hairyman. Rebekah Imig and Rebecca Bloch took turns playing Wiley's Mammy.

The group rehearsed on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday from 7 pm until about 9:30 pm. The final productions were given on November 15 and 16 at 8 pm. All of the cast agreed that they really grew closer to each other during the rehearsal schedule and had a lot of fun, proving that the fall show provides great entertainment for the public and a good learning experience for the students who were involved.

Top: Cary Luttrell (Wiley) is confronted by Jonathon Hale (Hairyman) and his magic. Center: Jared Callison, a swamp member, becomes a tree in the bog. Below: The entire cast of WILEY AND THE HAIRYMAN.

Grease

The students in the Spring Musical grease it up for the show GREASE.

The cast and crew of the Spring Musical GREASE.

Students at Rydell High attend the annual Prom.

The Greasers get loose, cool, and really hip for their part in GREASE!

GREASE was the spring musical that Ms. Jones chose for the Thespians to present this year. The students were really looking forward to the opening night for this show.

Josh Rich and Kristi Helton were cast as the lead roles for GREASE. They were Danny Zuko and Sandy Dumbrowski. GREASE is a rockin', hip-hopping musical about students at Rydell High School in 1959.

The Thespians did four performances of this show. The first was for the Junior High on April 1, at 9:00 am. The other three were on April 3 and 4 at 8:00 pm and April 5 at 2:30 pm.

Two of the Thespians' friends came back to help with this production of GREASE. Eric Weaver and Stuart Coon donated their time and efforts, also. GREASE was indeed a great success!

1992 CHS Sweethearts

To celebrate Valentine's Day, Clinton High School holds the Sweetheart Dance each year. This year the Sweetheart Dance was sponsored by the Student Council. Since the Student Council's treasury was overflowing about this time, they did not charge admission to the dance. Refreshments in the way of soda and cake were also provided by the Student Council.

Sweethearts were designated by popular vote from their respective classes. Sweethearts crowned on this occasion were Brooke Bostwick, freshman; Amy Torbert, sophomore; Rebecca Bloch, junior; and Stacy Newberry, senior. Music for the coronation was supplied by Amy Stephens.

FRESHMAN CANDIDATES: Chastity Clymer, Christine Her-
rin, Brooke Bostwick, Mandy

Prom 1992

This year's junior/senior prom, called "Black Tie Affair," was co-chaired by Heather Wooldridge and Tracy Roberts. The entire dance, coronation, and grand march were held in the high school gymnasium for the first time.

Decorations centered around a huge black and white tuxedo, which was suspended from the backboard in the gym.

Around the tuxedo stood several decorations with black, white, and clear balloons. At the south end of the gym stood a large black top hat. In the west gym, pictures were taken before a large red bowtie with white streamers hanging from it, a most appropriate setting for prom goers. The prom theme song was "Faithfully."

Silly Seniors

Amber Graves, Cheri Jent, Stephanie Beadles, and Reneé Workman define their territory.

Mary Thayer and Bryce McCleary show how to spend quality time in yearbook.

Jason Karr, Mike Doggett, and Marshall Canfield are three wits or together one.

By the time students have reached their senior year, they have decided that images and popularity are unneeded. This year's seniors like to have fun no matter what they look like to others. They have thrown off their junior high stereotypes and have let their true colors show. "Goofing off" is what some teachers like to call what the seniors do, but they like to call it "Being themselves."

The seniors this year have contracted the dreaded disease Senioritis, a little early. To relieve some of the pressure and tension that Senioritis puts upon the seniors' shoulders, each senior has his own way of dealing with it. Thus, he usually resorts to "Goofing off."

WE'RE OUTTA HERE!!

May 29th finally arrived with a few sprinkles, but nothing could dampen the spirits of the graduating class of 1992. Smiles, crazy slogans, and confetti marked the festive occasion. The ceremony was brief, approximately thirty minutes, but that was about all the seniors could sit still for. As the band struck the final chords, the Class of 1992 was "Outta There."
